

MEDIA RELEASE: December 16th, 2004

"HEY BABY, WANNA PEEL MY GRAPE?"
TALL ORDER VENTURES GIVES SINGLES A CHANCE TO GET FRESH
IN THE KITCHEN AT SERENDIPITY

VANCOUVER: On Saturday, November 27th, thirty-four fun-seeking singles will have the opportunity to come together at Serendipity and "break bread" while breaking the ice! The latest in dating, Serendipity is an exclusive evening of cooking that gives participants a chance to meet someone special while their hands are covered in melted Godiva. Things are sure to heat up at beautiful Panorama Ridge B & B in Vancouver.

"Participants wear their best and worst attributes on their chef hats, which puts everyone's personality on the forefront. Then, it's a crazy organized chaos full of grilling, torching, and roasting a three star, four course meal," says Tall Order founder, Julie Burke. "We use culinary teambuilding to help people find love."

"This event changed my life," says single mom, Mo Angle. "I met my soul mate shucking oysters at the last Serendipity evening. It was the most memorable time in a kitchen! Now our two big families are moving in together."

When: Saturday, January 29th, 2004
Time: 6:30 – 10:30 pm
Where: Exclusive Location TBA
Tickets: $125 per person

Vancouver's Tall Order Ventures performs culinary teambuilding events globally. Facilitating events for everyone from CEO's to singles, they're literally simmering in a philosophy that food is the gateway to the soul and cooking is an expression of how we operate in the world. A person's true colours show when the hollandaise breaks or the brandy snaps burn!

Media Contact: Christine Glen

T: (604) 597-7296    e: julie@tallorder.ca    w: www.tallorder.ca